

Throughout our 30+ year history, Johnson Lambert's strategy has been to focus on distinct industry niches where we can distinguish ourselves as possessing a depth of technical expertise and experience that is specifically relevant to our clients' needs. Over time, the firm has remained committed to our original business strategy, and we exclusively serve nonprofit organizations, employee benefit plans, and insurance entities.

Many CPA firms work with nonprofit organizations, but we believe we're different. Our team members don't just specialize in accounting and finance - they're true nonprofit experts who are deeply involved in the industry and have a genuine passion for the community of associations, foundations, and other nonprofits we serve.

The Johnson Lambert family includes 175+ professionals serving over 250 nonprofit entities. We are ready to be your strategic partner providing audit, tax, and consulting services tailored specifically to your mission and your goals.
